Karen E. Sprole Named General Counsel and VP of Human Resources of NightRays

HOUSTON, TX (July 31, 2008) – NightRays Radiology, a leading teleradiology provider, today announced the appointment of Karen E. Sprole, as General Counsel and Vice President of Human Resources for the company effective immediately.

“As a leader in providing teleradiology services, NightRays is dedicated to recruiting top-level professionals, which is crucial to ensuring the ongoing excellence and quality of service that our organization provides,” says Greg Rose, M.D. and chief executive officer of NightRays Radiology. “We are pleased to welcome Karen to the NightRays family and look forward to her contributions and extensive legal and human resources expertise.”

In her new role, Sprole will oversee all legal issues for the Company as well as advise the NightRays executive team on contractual issues, compliance issues, and general corporate governance matters. She will also manage all employment-related matters.

Sprole joins NightRays from Diamond McCarthy LLP, one of the nation's premier boutique law firms focusing on litigation and cost-effective resolution of complex business disputes. Sprole successfully represented a number of clients in a broad range of commercial and employment litigation cases at the trial and appellate levels.

Prior to her work with Diamond McCarthy, Sprole was a partner with Clouse Dunn Hirsch LLP, and was of counsel in the Litigation Section and a member of the Appellate Practice Group at Hughes & Luce LLP. In addition to her impressive record at both of these firms, Sprole also represented American Airlines as a litigation attorney where she handled commercial, antitrust, and ERISA litigation, as well as employment discrimination lawsuits.

“With her proven experience and exceptional track record, Karen brings with her an invaluable expertise and unique skill set,” says Dr. Rose. “As NightRays continues to experience tremendous growth, Karen will provide the legal strategy and foresight to further the company's goal of continuing to provide the finest quality radiology services available in the market today.”
